This workshop is about becoming a more influential leader in your organization, through the development of effective workplace relationships. It is these relationships, up and down the chain of command, that define good leadership and foster a healthy and collaborative work environment. Influential leaders understand that people who willingly follow a leader are happier, healthier and more productive at work than those who are simply forced to comply. Let us help you become the leader people want to follow.

In this workshop you will learn how to:

- Create an environment that promotes employee wellness and enhances your organization's ability to attract and retain quality employees.
- Identify and mitigate the aspects of organizational culture that cause dysfunction in your agency.
- Maintain your mental resilience as a leader by eliminating destructive beliefs and habits.
- Build effective workplace relationships, forge alliances and expand your networks.
- Navigate office politics.
- Get the support of your superiors and manage difficult bosses.
- Expand your influence by increasing your visibility.
